

There is a Chinese saying, “a good start is halfway to success.” Dr. Angela C. Wu and the entire Wu’s Healing Center staff wish to offer you the precious gift of how to properly start this year on the Lunar New Year’s Day (solar calendar February 5th, 2019). This first step on that day plays a significant role for the rest of year. Both the timing and direction of your initial exit from wherever you are on February 5th, 2019 are of utmost importance.

This is what to do on that day:

On the morning of February 5th, 2019 pay special attention to personal hygiene and the initial exit direction from the building in which you are. The most auspicious time to go out is between 3am to 5am, 7 am to 9 am and 11am to 1pm. To welcome good luck, walk in the Southeast direction. To invite divine help, also walk in the Southeast direction. To invite wealth-spirit, walk in the South direction.

If you would like to burn incense or pray, please do so between 12am to 5 am and 7am to 9am.

Please do not do initial exit between 5am to 7 am and 9pm to 11 pm. Please do not face South West, North East and west direction!

If you live or stay in an apartment building, walk in the desired direction at these following exits: your bedroom, front door, elevator (if your building has one), and finally the door to the outside.
